

Telehealth Codes

Listed below are the specific billing codes and associated fees for Telehealth visits. While we cannot guarantee the exact dollar amount of your visit, we hope this tool will serve as a guideline when contacting your insurance company to determine your benefits.

Visits have five coding levels that may be billed. The coding level applied to your service depends on the total visit time and/or information obtained during the appointment (including, but not limited to, history of present illness, family and social history, review of systems), the level of exam performed by the provider and the level of medical decision-making involved. Most visits by MNGI providers are billed at level three or four.

- Telehealth – An online video or telephone encounter with a secure consultation between a patient and a provider.
