

Colonoscopy Price Quote

Listed below are the fees associated with the colonoscopy procedure. While we cannot guarantee the exact dollar amount of your procedure, we hope this tool will serve as a guideline when contacting your insurance company to determine your benefits. We have included the billing (CPT) codes associated with the various procedures as a reference. This is not a comprehensive list of all procedures we perform; we have only included the most common procedures. The final cost of your visit cannot be determined until the physician has fully examined you and completed the procedure. It is not uncommon to have biopsies done and/or polyps removed during the procedures. Most patients who have a biopsy taken or a polyp removed have two or three specimens examined by a pathologist. If the pathologist determines that further testing on the specimen(s) is required, special stains or immunochemistry could also be done. In such cases, you will receive separate bills from the pathologist and/or a bill from the laboratory for any blood work done. If an anesthesia team member administers or monitors the sedation medication given during your procedure, there will be additional charges billed. If your procedure is performed at the hospital, there will be a separate facility fee billed by the hospital. Please check your insurance for specific benefits. The actual allowed amount (the amount of the billed charge deemed payable by an insurance plan) for each charge will be determined by your insurance company. Insurance coverage for these procedures varies amongst insurers. It is important to check your individual policy and direct any questions to your insurer to determine coverage and your financial responsibility prior to receiving treatment.

Procedures

Billing Code (CPT Code)	Description	MNGI (Physician Fee)
45390	Colonoscopy with Endoscopic Submucosal Resection (EMR)	$1,483
45399	Colonoscopy with Endoscopic Submucosal Dissection (ESD)	$762

The nature of some procedures may require that the procedure be performed in a hospital. In this case, the facility charges and anesthesia charges would be determined by the hospital. ***

Prices may be subject to change

www.mngi.com