About the Interstim Test

Medtronic Bowel Control Therapy delivered by InterStim™ system treats chronic fecal incontinence (an accident or leaking involving stool). It should be used after you have tried other treatments such as medications and dietary modifications and they have not worked, or if you are not a candidate for them.

Medtronic Bladder Control Therapy delivered by the InterStim™ system treats urinary retention (inability to completely empty the bladder) and the symptoms of overactive bladder, including urinary urge incontinence (leakage) and significant symptoms of urgency-frequency. It should be used after you have tried other treatments such as medications and behavioral therapy and they have not worked, or you could not tolerate them.

Your healthcare provider will likely place two thin wires called “leads” in the upper part of your buttock. These leads will stimulate one of the nerves responsible for the communication between your brain and your bladder/bowel. The leads are attached to a small external neurostimulator that you’ll wear in a black belt around your waist. This external device will power your test therapy. Your healthcare provider may cover your wires with bandages so that they do not move throughout the test.

Billing

Listed below are the specific billing code and fee for the Interstim Test. We have listed the fees for the physician component as well as the facility fee for the use of any of our ambulatory surgical centers (ASCs). The actual allowed amount (the amount of the billed charge deemed payable by an insurance plan) for each charge and the amount of your out-of-pocket expenses will depend on your particular insurance plan. It is important to check your individual policy and direct any questions to your insurer to determine coverage and your financial responsibility prior to receiving treatment.
